

future thinking, social and cultural capital

place-based learning, health, sustainability

social inclusion and community participation

A Sense of Place 2-5 September 2009
Sustainable Placemaking

How do we make places that help communities respond to changing times? How do we build strong and resilient communities? This year's Sense of Place looks at what communities can do now to thrive in the future. Join us for three days of talks, activities, ideas and inspiration.

Find out more at www.sensorytrust.org.uk

Comments from previous years

"Throws off the shackles of previously constrained thinking."

"Genuine communication and shared vision has made this conference a highly valued experience."

"A 5 star event. Extremely well organised."

"One of the best conferences I've been to in terms of venues and speakers."